Simon Winter Marine Limited Appointment of Durell Software to supply software package

Simon Winter Marine Limited ("SWM") is pleased to announce the appointment of Durell Software Limited to supply an integrated insurance broking software package.

After a two month trialling period the package will replace SWM's existing systems and provide client & prospect database management as well as office administrative functions.

Commenting on the appointment, Simon Winter said:

"The benefits of using the software are already evident both in time saved on various administrative functions and providing our clients with an efficient and seamless transition from initial enquiry to attachment of cover. Ease of use and a helpful support team were crucial factors in making this appointment."
